INDUSTRY PROGRAM – DAY 1

Thursday August 27

WELCOME

CinefestOZ has responded to demand from the Australian film industry and, with support from the South West Development Commission, is proud to be presenting the 2020 Industry Program. This year, the program has been curated with a global audience in mind, with the addition of an online component and will address contemporary issues in today's challenging environment.

Our local, national and international guests will share their wealth of knowledge and expertise to cover a variety of topics relevant to all sectors of the screen industry, regardless of experience. Join us for two days of inspiring talks, exciting discussions, intense debates, fantastic networking opportunities, and much more.

10:00AM – FESTIVAL HUB

Official welcome & acknowledgement

Malinda Nixon CEO CinefestOZ

10:15AM – 11:15AM FESTIVAL HUB

Producing Covid

Producers all over the world are now adapting to the new challenges and opportunities presented by the pandemic. Julia Redwood (Outback Truckers, Outback Opal Hunters, Star Dreaming) hosts a panel session providing insights into managing through COVID and producing new content, with producers Jamie Hilton (GO!, Standing up for Sunny, Breath), Steve Jaggi (Swimming for Gold, Back of the Net, Rip Tide) and Anne Robinson (The Merger, Backyard Ashes).

Host: Julia Redwood

Guests: Jamie Hilton, Steve Jaggi and Anne Robinson

11:30AM – 12:00PM FESTIVAL HUB

Contemporary Methods to Assistant Directing

What has changed on set? How considering health and safety of cast, crew and the planet will change scheduling methodology and running a fast paced set. A look at COVID restrictions, going paperless and the changes these bring.

Host: Chanel Bowen

Guests: Mark Boskell, John Fairhead, Stuart Morrice

12:15PM – 1:00PM FESTIVAL HUB

Directors Spotlight

Featuring Western Australian writer/director Zak Hilditch. In 2013 Zak's first funded feature These Final Hours premiered at the Melbourne International Film Festival, (and screened at CinefestOZ) picking up The Age critics' prize for best film. The film later had its international premiere in the Directors' Fortnight section of the 2014 Cannes Film Festival. He has since made two films for Netflix; an adaptation of the Stephen King novella 1922 and more recently Rattlesnake. Zak is represented by ThruLine and WME in the US.

Host: Sam Lara

Guest: Zak Hilditch

Supported by Australian Directors' Guild

1:30PM – 2:30PM FESTIVAL HUB

Book to Screen Adaptations

The Australian film industry's success in adapting novels to screen is evidenced by the success of films like Jasper Jones, Bran Nue Dae, Picnic at Hanging Rock, Red Dog, Rabbit Proof Fence, Jindabyne, Lantana, My Brilliant Career and many others. This fascinating session explores the adaptation process; what it takes to not only find the right book for a screen adaptation, but how to do it and do it well. Joining panel host Barbara Connell, Drama Development Manager, Screenwest, for this illuminating discussion will be Lisa Hoppe, Screenwriter, and John Sheedy, Director, of H is for Happiness, the 2019 CinefestOZ winner of the $100k film prize.

There will also be an exciting announcement regarding a new Screenwest development initiative!
